PHOTOCOPY RATES. Many thanks to those of you who wrote to Don Siegelman, Alabama Secretary of State, regarding the exorbitant charge of $1.00 per page for photocopies in Alabama probate offices. That order has been rescinded and most probate offices now charge 25 to 35 Cents per page. We can not help but feel that our members played a significant role in bringing down the charge to a reasonable figure. Thank you.

ELBERT MINTER. It is with a great deal of sorrow that we announce the death of Elbert Minter of Decatur, Alabama. Mr. Minter had gallantly fought lung cancer for several years and died on Tuesday, May 21, 1985. He leaves his lovely wife, Polly, and two daughters.

For those of you who did not know Elbert, he was the person who diligently copied the Morgan County marriage records and donated them to TVGS for publishing. We are very sorry we did not have them published in time for him to see the result of his many years' labor.

MORGAN MARRIAGES - A TEAM EFFORT

We now have the Morgan County marriages proof-read, put in alphabetical order, and have started typing them. A very BIG thank you goes to Dene Walls and Sue Marine who laboriously proof read two entire marriage books - no small undertaking. Margaret Cowart donated three days out of her busy schedule and Shirley Greer went numerous times to the Morgan County courthouse to help proof-read Mr. Minter's work against the original. Many thanks also to Jack Cochran and Addie Shaver who also contributed many hours to this effort.

DIFFERENT FORMAT THIS ISSUE

Even though the format is different in this issue we have still attempted to cover all counties almost equally. There is some material that does not lend itself to publishing in installments, therefore, we have gathered it into one single issue. In some cases, the introduction would have been longer than the material introduced if it had been serialized, yet it is important material and should be before the public and we felt this was the best way to handle it. The March issue will revert to the normal format.

HAVE A WONDERFUL HOLIDAY SEASON.

DECATUR COUNTY TOWNSHIP PLATS

DECATUR COUNTY

The exact location of the Decatur/Jackson County line remains elusive but it was in trying to locate it that negative photostats of the township plats of the Decatur County area were ordered. The public surveys of this land were conducted in 1822 and 1823 but annotations as late as 1888 are included. Located and secured by Catherine Gilliam, this information was transcribed by Dorothy S. Johnson and Margaret M. Cowart. This series began in Valley Leaves Volume 16, Number 1, September 1981.

ALABAMA SUPREME COURT CASES

These early Alabama court cases were abstracted from the Alabama Reports. The original records on these cases are at the Alabama Department of Archives and History in Montgomery. The records can be examined there by asking for the case by name together with the term of the Supreme Court in which the case was heard, i. e., January term, 1862. Only material of some genealogical or historical value has been abstracted, the legal issues on appeal are not. The records at the Archives will contain much additional information as to names, dates, and legal issues. Abstracted and contributed by Judge William D. Page.

JACKSON COUNTY

Evans -vs- Sims

Volume 37, Alabama Reports, Page 710, Supreme Court of Alabama, June Term, 1861. Appeal from Circuit Court of Jackson County. The name of the presiding judge is not shown in the record. S. D. J. Moore was the attorney for Evans; Robinson & Jones were attorneys for Sims.

Matthew Sims sued L. B. Evans in Justice Court. The case was removed to the Circuit Court where Sims claimed $49.00 alleged to be due from Evans on an account. Evans attempted to assert a counter claim against Sims upon a debt owed to Evans and one Ledbetter, partners working in the smith trade. The counter claim was not allowed. When one is sued for his individual debt he cannot set off a debt due to a partnership of which he is a member.

JACKSON COUNTY Cotton -vs- Bradley

Volume 38, Alabama Reports, Page 506, Supreme Court of Alabama, January term, 1863. Appeal from Circuit Court of Jackson County, Hon. S. D. Hale, Judge. S. D. J. Moore was attorney for Mr. Cotton; R. C. Brickell was attorney for Mr. Bradley.

Joseph C. Bradley sued Edward Cotton on a bill of exchange which was drawn by David Larkin, dated Larkinsville, Ala., April 21, 1855 on Messrs. Bradley, Wilson & Co. of New Orleans. The bill was payable to Cotton who endorsed it to Dillard & Ledbetter who endorsed it to Bradley. There had been a suit in U. S. District Court at Huntsville resulting in a judgment on November 15, 1855 in favor of the State Bank of South Carolina, as endorsee of Bradley, against Dillard & Ledbetter on the same bill of exchange.

Jack and others (slaves) -vs- Doran's Executors

Volume 37, Alabama Reports, Page 265, Supreme Court of Alabama, January Term, 1861. Appeal from Circuit Court of Jackson County. The record does not show the name of the presiding judge. Attorney for the plaintiffs was H. Cox; P. Turney was attorney for the defendants.

Suit was commenced in September, 1858, by persons who had been slaves of James Doran, deceased, during his lifetime, and who sued by next friend against the executors and heirs at law of Doran. Plaintiffs claimed their freedom under two Acts of the Alabama Legislature and under the will of Doran which was admitted to probate in November, 1840, as a will of personal property only, being attested by but two witnesses.

Acts of Alabama, 1832, approved January 20, 1832:

"Be it enacted . . . that James Doran, of Jackson County, be, and he is hereby authorized (to take effect at his discretion) emancipate and set free slaves of the following manner, viz: Sally, Annie, Jack, Catcy, Davy, Emeline, Eliza, Jane, Nancy, Amanda, Jerry, and Polly. Provided he shall previously convey to the judge of the county court of said county, and his successors, six hundred and forty acres of land on which he now resides, or lands equal in value thereto, in trust forever, for the use of said slaves, as security that they shall not become chargeable on any city, county, or town in this State."

Another Act, approved January 5, 1833, and entitled An Act Supplemental to the former legislation, authorized James Doran to emancipate two other slaves, Jim and Esther, upon the same condition. The clause of Doran's will under consideration was as follows:

At the death of my wife, Linny Doran, I give and bequeath unto my negro slaves which I now have at home with me (specifying by name all the slaves mentioned in the two acts of the legislature [above] and their children,) and all future increase of their families, their freedom, provided, they be obedient servants to my wife during the whole of her natural lifetime,, and as the law obliges the owners of slaves to give security before they can set them free, so that they may not become a public charge, I leave to them, for that purpose, the whole of my tract of land on which I now live, to be divided in the following manner...

The petition alleged that the widow of James Doran died in 1851; that the plaintiffs were subsequently carried into Tennessee by some of the defendants and that they were still in Tennessee.

The Circuit Court ruled the petition failed to state a claim upon which relief could be granted. The Supreme Court upheld that ruling. The will of Doran, which was executed in Alabama, made a direct bequest of freedom to slaves. Unless there was legislation authorizing the emancipation the bequest was void. There was never any attempt by Doran to convey the land to the judge of the County Court in trust for the use of the slaves. The attempt to pass the 640 acres by Will directly to the slaves was futile because the Will, being attested by but two witnesses was not sufficient to pass real estate but was admitted to probate only as it related to personal property. The bequest of the land to the slaves was void. The bequest of freedom was treated as if the special Acts of the Legislature had never existed and was held "clearly invalid."

MAD ISON COUNTY Crutcher -vs- Memphis & Charleston Railroad Co.

Volume 38, Alabama Reports, Page 579, Supreme Court of Alabama, January term, 1863. Appeal from Circuit Court of Madison County, Hon. S. D. Hale, Judge. Attorneys for Crutcher were Goldthwaite, Rice & Semple of Montgomery and attorneys for the railroad were Walker & Brickell.

Legal action by Reuben Crutcher began July 23, 1857 to recover damages for the loss of a slave accidentally killed while working on defendant's railroad.

F. C. Arms was defendant's general superintendent and chief engineer authorized to hire hands to build the railroad. One Studdart of the firm Studdart and D. H. Stevens contracted to complete a section of road; W. M. Newby to furnish hands; W. H. Easley to hire hands; charge not to exceed $30.00 per month for each slave; contract signed in Huntsville, Alabama September 6, 1856.

MADISON COUNTY Raisler -vs- Springer

Volume 38, Page 703, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, January Term, 1863. Appeal from Circuit Court of Madison County. Hon. S. D. Hale, Judge. J. W. Sheperd, attorney for Raisler; James Robinson, attorney for Springer.

Suit by Charles W. Raisler against Josiah Springer for unlawful taking of one buggy (valued at $400.00) and 4,000 feet of plank. The property was taken by one Vest, a constable, upon an execution. The plaintiff, Raisler, sought to show that Vest took the property in an offensive and insulting manner and the trial judge would not allow such evidence. On appeal, the Supreme Court held the evidence should have been admitted to show malice even though the defendant Springer was not present when the property was taken. Suit was filed in Circuit Court in Madison County, Alabama on February 1, 1858.

MADISON COUNTY Smith -vs- Kennard's Executor

Volume 38, Page 695, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, January Term, 1863. Appeal from Chancery Court of Madison County, Hon. John Foster, Chancellor.

Note by the Reporter of Decision: "Their case was decided at the June Term, 1860, but the record was for some time mislaid."

Suit was brought in September, 1840 by Silas M. Smith and wife. James Robinson was their attorney. Also joining as plaintiffs were legatees under the Last Will & Testament of James J. Kennard, deceased. The testator (Kennard) died in Madison County, the place of his residence, in October, 1824. Henry King and Stephen King were named executors under the will. Henry King alone qualified. The widow died in 1834.

Legatees of James J. Kennard:

Widow (not named)
Nancy M. Winfrey, daughter
Joseph Kennard, son
Penelope C. Blackman, daughter
Charles H. Kennard, son
Polly G. Kennard, daughter
Adeline P. Kennard, daughter
James M. Kennard, son
Nathaniel W. Kennard, son
Eleanor W. Kennard, daughter
George M. Kennard, daughter
George M. Kennard, daughter

"Likewise the child or children that my wife is now pregnant with."
Will mentions: "... the quarter-section of land where James Blackman now lives...

the seven lots which I have in Erie in the county of Greene and which John Kennard, as my attorney, has had management of ... the property that is in the hands of Shelby, as my attorney, in the town of Demopolis in Marengo County ... I give my shot gun to my son Charles . . . "

The will of Kennard imposed active duties and trusts on the Executor, to continue until the youngest child should come of age or marry. The youngest child married in 1838. Several of the children died before 1840 and there were deaths during progress of the suit. The will gave each of the minor children a legacy of $525.00 to be paid to each as he or she arrived at age or married. Eight slaves were named. Education and support for the minor children provided for.

MADISON COUNTY Clopton -vs- Jones' Executors

Volume 38, Page 121, Alabama Reports, appeal from Probate Court of Madison County to the Supreme Court of Alabama, June Term, 1861. James Robinson, attorney for Clopton; R. C. Brickell, attorney for Jones.

The will of Arthur W. Jones was admitted to probate October 21, 1833 with Friley Jones as Executor. Arthur W. Jones was survived by the widow and four children. The widow dissented from the will and married Benjamin Coyle in 1837. A daughter, Mary W. Jones, married R. J. Clopton in February, 1840, while she was a minor. Sons, James Monroe Jones and William Arthur Jones, are mentioned in the case. The suit involved a contest of final settlement of the Executor and his claim of credit for board, clothing, and tuition paid for Mrs. Clopton prior to her marriage.

MADISON COUNTY Moore -vs- Madison County

Volume 38, Page 670, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, January Term, 1863. Appealed from Circuit Court of Madison County, the Hon. John Gill Shorter, Judge. Attorney for Moore was S. D. J. Moore; attorney for Madison County was R. C. Brickell.

Suit filed January 16, 1854 by Madison County against Benjamin T. Moore and John H. Lewis. Action founded on Moore's bond as Treasurer of Madison County on which Lewis was surety. By agreement in 1857 the matters were referred to Isiah Dill for arbitration. The bond on which suit was filed was dated February 5, 1835. Moore was reelected to a new term on February 5, 1838 and served until December 5, 1842.

MADISON COUNTY Hall's Heirs -vs- Hall's Executors

Volume 38, Page 131, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, June Term, 1861. Appeal from Chancery Court of Madison County, Hon. John Foster, Chancellor. Attorney for the heirs was S. D. J. Moore; Robinson & Jones, attorneys for the executors.

Suit filed October 23, 1858 by some of the heirs at law of Adam Hall, deceased, to set aside the probate of the will which had been admitted to probate June 29, 1858. William Echols and Joshua Beadle were executors.

A specific bequest of $200.00 was made to one Browne. The money was paid to him by the executors. The heirs asserted that because Browne was a legatee under the will he was disqualified as a witness in the case. Browne then returned the money to the executors and released his claim against the estate. Three physicians, two attesting witnesses, the writer of the will, and a large number of other witnesses testified to the mental capacity of Adam Hall.

MADISON COUNTY Coltart -vs- Laughinghouse

Volume 38, Page 190, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, June term, 1861. Appeal from Circuit Court of Madison County, the Hon. S. D. Hale, Judge. Attorney for appellant Coltart was S. D. J. Moore; Robinson & Jones, attorneys for appellees.

Suit by George W. Laughinghouse and Fleming Jordan against Robert W. Coltart to recover slaves and damages for their detention.

MADISON COUNTY Laughinghouse -vs- Laughinghouse

Volume 38, Page 257, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, January term, 1862. Appeal from Probate Court of Madison County. James Robinson, attorney for appellant. R. C. Brickell, attorney for appellee.

Petition of Joseph Laughinghouse to revoke letters of guardianship over his person and property previously issued by Probate Court on the grounds that he was a lunatic. John E. Laughinghouse, the appellee, had been appointed guardian. On appeal it was held that letters had been improperly granted.

MADISON COUNTY Fowlkes -vs- Memphis & Charleston Railroad Co.

Volume 38, Page. 310, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, January term, 1862. Appeal from Circuit Court of Madison County.

Suit to recover damages for death of a slave run over and killed by defendant's engine and cars. The suit was commenced by Cynthia L. Fowlkes, guardian of Ransom H. Fowlkes. The court refused to allow an amendment to change the plaintiff to Ransom H. Fowlkes by his next friend, Cynthia L. Fowlkes. Upheld on appeal.

MADISON COUNTY Clemens -vs- Patterson

Volume 38, Page 721, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, January term, 1863. Appealed from Probate Court of Madison County. Walker & Brickell and W. P. Chilton, attorneys for appellant; Goldthwaite, Rice & Semple of Montgomery, attorneys for appellee.

Benjamin Patterson as executor propounded a will of James Clemons, deceased, for probate. Jeremiah Clemens contested the will, set up an older will which had been cancelled and alleged the newer will was executed when the testator was insane. The newer will propounded by Patterson was admitted to probate. All the heirs at law appealed except Jeremiah Clemens. Appeal dismissed.

MADISON COUNTY Stewart -vs- Russell

Volume 38, Page 619, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, January term, 1863. Appeal from Circuit Court of Madison County, Hon. W. M. Brooks, judge.

Action commenced on July 18, 1855 by Robert F. Russell against William Stewart founded on a bill of exchange drawn at Huntsville by Robert Freeman on Bradley, Wilson & Co. of New Orleans, payable to John W. Weaver. The bill was endorsed by Weaver to Stewart who endorsed it to Russell. Another suit had been commenced on November 6, 1854 by Russell against Freeman. Persons who testified were H. B. Cenas, a Notary Public in New Orleans; A. Commandeur and C. F. Berry, both of New Orleans.

MARSHALL COUNTY Woodall -vs- McMillan

Volume 38, Page 622, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, January term, 1863. Appeal from Circuit Court of Marshall County, Hon. S. D. Hale, Judge. Goldthwaite, Rice & Semple of Montgomery, attorneys for appellant Woodall.

Suit for false arrest and malicious prosecution brought by John H. McMillan against Presly R. Woodall commenced February 6, 1860. On February 16, 1859 defendant Woodall went before Samuel Hill, an acting Justice of the Peace in Marshall County, made affidavit and obtained a warrant for the arrest of McMillan on a charge of perjury in making a false statement before the Register of the land office in Huntsville in relation to the entry of a tract of land. McMillan was arrested and carried before a Justice in Madison County where McMillan was discharged.

The Justice in Marshall County had no authority to issue a warrant for an offense occurring in Madison County. The warrant under which McMillan's arrest was made was void. The jury verdict in favor of McMillan was reversed because of erroneous rulings by the judge concerning evidence offered by Woodall on trial.

LAUDERDALE COUNTY Wright & Rice -vs- Moore

Volume 38, Page 593, Alabama Reports, Supreme Court of Alabama, January term, 1863. Appeal from Chancery Court of Lauderdale County. Hon. John Foster, Chancellor. John S. Kennedy and E. W. Kennedy, attorneys for appellant. James T. Irvine, attorney for appellees.

Action concerning a dam filed May 17, 1858 brought against Lewis C. Moore and his wife, Atlantic P. Moore, and their sons Hugh M. Moore and John Moore. The suit sought to restrain the defendants from obstructing a stream called "Coxe's Creek" on which plaintiffs had erected a grist mill, machine shop, and foundry. Previously two other dams had been located near the same location.

CIVIL WAR LETTER FROM DeKALB COUNTY

The following letter was sent to TVGS by Mr. W. H. Earhart of Marion, Indiana, who did not want it destroyed. It was given to him by Mr. Francis Nussbaum, now in a retirement home. The writer of the letter is believed to be the father of William Clarence Lacey who married Mr. Earhart's grandfather's sister, Grace Adelle Earhart, in 1899. William Clarence Lacey was born in 1872, probably in Ohio.

Camp in Willks Valley

Decalb Co., Ala. Sunday Sept 6th 1863

Dear Brother,

Having nothing particular at this time to occupy my attention, I thought it best to write home and let you know what I am doing &c

As you see, we are now in a valley known as Willks. We camped here the day before yesterday. This valley extends to Chatanooga which I suppose is between thirty & forty miles nearly north. We are on Weston's farm, a man of some notoriety in this country; his residence is near the gap leading into the valley from the west. He has the best spring of water that I have seen.

The mountain just to the east of us is called the Lookout Mountain. The distance back to the Tenn[essee] River is 25 miles.

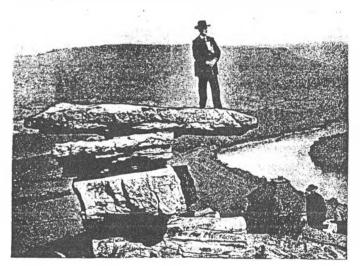

I will now give you a short account of our march from the River to this place. We left out camp just east of river Monday 31st Aug. at 7 a.m., marched near 5 miles to summit of mountain - it was pretty steep & rough - camped half past one Sept. 1st. Orders this morning to lighten baggage - all unnecessary things to be left or sent back. One of our waggons was sent back after supplies which left us but one waggon besides the ambulance. In the evening in company with the Chaplin I went back, say two miles, in what is called the Lookout Rock to obtain a view of the river & pontoon bridge over which we crossed and also the mountain to the west. The view from our position was a splendid one - the river winding along with its green foliage upon either side, the pontoon bridge and mountain tops in the distance presenting an enchanting view not soon to be forgotten. I rode my horse to within four feet of the precipice. The Chaplin remarked that I was a little too venturesome.

Sept. 2. Started at 6 o'clock a.m., passed several streams on the way. One called Flat Rock River which is considerable of a stream to be on a mountain. I noticed more pine today than any other timber; also for the first time saw the chinkapin bushes - there was some oak timber, principally black oak. Not much sign of civilization - here & there a few acres cleared with a small dwelling. Our advance took one prisoner on the way who it was said was endeavering to recruit a company of mounted men. Marched fifteen miles. Camped at 3 o'ck. p.m. in a tolerable good valley; had ham, mutton, stewed peaches & tea for breakfast next morning.

PAGE 3

Sept. 3<sup>d</sup> For dinner today, beef, mutton, corn, coffee, crackers &<sup>c</sup> so you see that we are doing pretty well in the way of eatables. We are in camp near a man by the name of Young, owning 200 acres. He has considerable corn, fruit &<sup>c</sup> By the time we leave he will be stripped. Corn, potatoes, peaches, apples goes if by magic. He claims to be a Union man & says he can prove it but it does not save his corn &<sup>c</sup>

Ordered to march at half past one. Went back a mile or two, camped in woods - some anticipation of trouble ahead; also waiting for Cavalry to come up. They arrived in considerable force in the evening.

Sept. 4th Moved at 3 o'ck. went back by our previous camp some five miles to our present camp. We passed the 1st Ohio Cavalry on the way. I expected to see P. McFarland & went back a short distance for that purpose but did not succeed. The cavalry moved on yesterday & this morning (5th & 6th) east for the purpose I suppose of getting possession of the Rail R[oad] between Chattanoogs & Atlanta which is in the next valley east of us. We are now near 28 miles from Stevenson [in Jackson County.]

Some are of the opinion that Bragg will not fight Rosecrants but it is my opinion that before many days there will be some hard fighting; the indications for several days have impressed me with the belief that our progress would soon be contested.

I would like to get out of this region so as to have a better idea of what the country is, though for health here is the place at this time of the year. I am quite well & have been. There is but little sickness in the reg[iment.]

Perhaps you would like to know what the regiment numbers. It may surprise you when I tell you there is but about 300 effective men in it at present. About a year ago now the regiment left Ohio one thousand strong and I believe the ballance of this Brigade is about the same. The Kentucky campaign last fall thinned them out very much. I can't say for the ballance of this division how they number but if they are like this Brigade you can form an opinion as to the number of men in this army. However I think [this] Brigade is somewhat below the average. Gen. Carlan commands this Brigade. Jeff. C. Davis the division which consists of three Brigades, McCook commands the Corps which consists of three divisions. Davis has his wife with him. I saw her upon horseback on the march.

I wish you to send me at once about a dozen stamps. Also one pocket map, the latest one. You may send two if you can get them, say at  $25^{\text{Cts}}$  a piece as I can dispose of one or more readily at an advanced price - also see what you can get me a military vest of a dark blue color as I shall need one when the weather gets cooler. You need not get a fine, high priced one but one of a medium quality. Let me know in your next letter, also the price of tea as I can probably have it sent here cheaper than I can buy [it] here.

Monday, 7th Today a few men went out foraging, one was shot and 4 taken prisoners by a party of Rebel Cavalry. It has been quite hot for a day or two. Today there was a fine rain. Write soon direct to H. T. Lacey, asst. surg., 101st O. V. I., 2nd Brigade, 1st division, 20th A. C., Via Nashville, Tenn.

You see by my letter that I copyed part of my letter from my note book.

Yours.

H. T. Lacey

EARLY ALABAMA PRISONERS

The following excerpts are taken from the book, Second Biennial Report of the Inspectors of Convicts published in 1888 by W. D. Brown & Co., State Printers, Binders and Stationers. It is an official state publication resulting from an attempt at prison reform and it covers the period from October 1, 1886 to September 30, 1888. We have used only that portion of the material that pertains to our nine North Alabama counties. All information contained in this article was taken from the book of which a copy is in the Heritage Room of the Huntsville Public Library.

Background Information

In 1839 the Alabama Legislature passed an Act establishing a state penitentiary and prison system. Before that time the law allowed death, branding, and whippings for graver offenses at the county level.

After the penitentiary system was established in Alabama, the Lease System also came into being. Prison labor was put out on bids to companies resulting in the infamous chain-gangs and forced-labor camps. "All efforts for reformation or instruction of convicts was abandoned, and even the punishment was made a secondary object, the first being to make as much money out of [the convicts] as possible." The lease system reached the point of savagery.

Chained together, literally, under the lease system were blacks and whites, men and boys, and novice and hardened criminals (boys convicted of playing cards were chained to older rapists, robbers, and assassins.) They were fed scantily the coarsest, poorly-cooked food; bread or combread, meat, peas and molasses appeared to be their constant diet. Clothing barely covering their nakedness was insufficient to keep them warm and was covered with filth and vermin. Men breaking rock for road-beds were often forced to work barefoot having worn out the shoes they had when they entered prison.

The prisoners were often worked until they collapsed or died. Punishment for the slightest infraction of the rules, for not "getting about lively," or for not doing enough work usually resulted in severe beatings. Convicts were generally housed in one airless room which became the home of twice the number of persons it was designed to hold. They were given tubs (one to a room) to use as latrines, were shackled together even to sleep, and were not allowed to bathe nor were they given a change of clothing.

Disease was rampant resulting in a high mortality rate. In 1887 there was an epidemic of measels but the greatest causes of death were diseases of the lungs. Tuberculosis and pneumonia, in their various forms, caused 71 deaths out of 130 from October, 1886 to October, 1880.

Separate facilities were not maintained for female prisoners and by 1888 there were "fifteen children at the Penitentiary, born since the mothers were convicted." In 1887 or 1888 the sexes were separated entirely by a stockade inside the prison walls.

By 1883 public opinion forced another reform and the convict laws began to improve. The 1886-1887 Legislature passed a law requiring an inspection team to determine the health and condition of the prisoners sentenced to hard labor. A Board of Inspectors, including a physician, paid weekly visits to work camps. If the board discovered abuses by the company contractor their contract could be terminated.

It must be said here that even in 1888 some physicians recognized the imporatance of genealogy in health matters. On 3 October 1888 Dr. R. Aug. Jones, physician of convicts, stated in his report to the Governor on disease among the convicts, "That the family history is an important factor as a predisposing cause [of disease]."

Even from statistics as gruesome as these one can find humor. A convicted burglar gave his former occupation as "thief." One convicted embezzler's occupation was listed as "Ex-Treasurer."

The following records pertain to both county and state prisoners as indicated in the headings.

First Biennial Report of the BOARD OF MANAGERS OF CONVICTS From September 1, 1892 to August 31, 1894

In the two years ending August 31, 1894 the State of Alabama realized a net profit from the hiring out of convicts of $156,005.09. That prison conditions were improving, however, can not be denied as evidenced by the expenditure of $10,849.12 for clothing and shoes, $2,300.99 for bedding, and $159.68 for religious literature. Even with a total of $38,913.48 in improvements disease and death were not strangers in the penal system as evidenced by the following information.

Deaths of State Convicts at the Penitentiary from Sept. 1, 1892 to Aug. 31, 1894.

TYPES OF CRIMES

If you wish more details on any of the above men and why they were in prison, I suggest you check the newspaper morgue in the county of sentencing or the criminal records of that county if they still exist.

Before becoming too upset at finding an ancestor, or relative of an ancestor, on these pages you should be aware of what was considered "criminal" in the time period covered here. Along with the usual murder, burglary, rape, and larceny, the following were also listed as crimes for which people had been sentenced in Alabama:

Adultry
Abusive language
Aiding escape
Disturbing religious worship
Enticing away labor
Obscene language

Selling whiskey Trespass Shooting railroad train Rocking railroad train Gaming (gambling)

CREEK INDIAN WAR (Seminole War)

The Treaty of Cusseta of 24 March 1832 was the cause of the Creek Wars of 1836 and 1837 in Alabama. The land within the present counties of Barbor, Calhoun, Chambers, Coosa, Macon, Lee, Randolph, Russell, Talladega, and Tallapoosa was secured by the state through what was commonly called the Land Session of 1832.

When time came for the Creek Indians to move to a territory in the west, disturbances broke out. Many of the Indians were unwilling to leave their ancestral home. White settlers were killed and towns raided along the Old Federal Road that ran from Augusta, Georgia through the Creek Nation to the west. Several brigades of state troops were called out, along with one brigade from Tennessee. The headquarters for the Alabama troops was probably located at Fort Moore in Russell County, with Camp Jordan being the headquarters for the Tennessee troops. Each man enlisted for three months in June of 1836.

At the session in December of 1836, the Alabama State Legislature appropriated money to cover the expenses of the troops which had been called out before that time. The hostilities shifted to Florida in 1837, however, and few battles occurred within Alabama after the spring of that year. The fighting in Florida came to be known as the Seminole War and the Florida War.

The muster rolls for all the Alabama troops have been collected in a box titled, Alabama and are located in the Old Army/Navy Records in the National Archives in Washington, D. C. The sheets of paper have been folded several times and the folds are worn with age. Repairs have been made on the folds resulting in difficulty in reading some of the names.

This information has been abstracted from the originals in the National Archives in Washington, D. C. and contributed by Yvonne Spence Perkins, past editor of Valley Leaves.

An Act to Preserve Records

Whereas it is noble and customary in all civilized nations to honor and perpetuate the memory of those who fall in the service of the State; and whereas, it is eminently just and proper in the exercise of a natural and sacred affection for her brave sons who surrendered their lives at her demand in the late war, and respect for the services of those who went forth to battle at her command, that the State of Alabama shall cause to be preserved such authenticated memorials of them as it may be possible to obtain; and whereas, W. H. Fowler has in his possession a collection of written records and historical memoranda concerning Alabama soldiers, living and dead, invaluable to the people of the State, and which ought to be possessed by her for preservation in her archives; therefore:

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Alabama in General Assembly convened, that the Governor be, and he is hereby authorized and directed, to purchase and obtain from the said W. H. Fowler, the above described records and historical memoranda, paying to him therefor the sum of three thousand dollars, and to direct the Comptroller to draw his warrant upon the Treasurer of the State for said sum, in favor of the said W. H. Fowler, and the same shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury, not otherwise appropriated. And the said records, when so obtained, shall be deposited in the archives of the State as a perpetual memorial concerning her soldiers named therein.

NOTE: F. C. Vinson was the son of Drury Vinson whose will is mentioned herein. It is not on record in Colbert County so we must assume Drury died a resident of Franklin County before Colbert was carved from Franklin. This means that Drury's will was one of those burned in one of the Franklin County courthouse fires. For this reason, I have chosen to copy more of the will verbatim than is normally done in will abstracts.

'T, F. C. Vinson of the County of Colbert & State of Alabama do make and declare this to be my last Will & testament.

"My Father, Drury Vinson, by his last Will, having clothed me with power & authority to make a will and thereby make any changes I might deem necessary and proper in the decent of any portion of the property in which I had a life interest by his Will, or of any of which I might subsequently have a life interest by the death of my mother;

'Now it Seeming to me to be right and proper & judicious that the changes hereinafter mentioned should be made I therefore declare that any & all the changes which I may make from my Father's will to be right & proper & called for from the present

"3rd. I have sold to Isaac E. CONTRIBUTIONS. The Tennessee Valley Genealogical Society does not pay for contributions but welcomes genealogical material pertaining to our Valley counties (see front cover). Occasional articles concerning neighboring counties will be used. Families living in our counties prior to 1900 are of the most interest, genealogically speaking, so please do not send recent items.

To be considered for publication, an item submitted must have a reliable reference and not be based entirely on "tradition." We do not want items copied from books now in print, however, such references may be used as footnotes to clarify items.

Valley Leaves is most interested in securing for publication the following types of items (send photocopy of original if possible.)

Family Bible records (include title page with date Bible was published if page still exists), diaries, church records, military records, minister's records, cemetery readings (give location of cemetery and whether or not the listing is complete), courthouse records, old newspaper items, etc.

Contributions of Bible records, wills, etc., which include a photocopy of the original record plus a typed or handwritten transcription are usually published before records sent without a photocopy. We always reserve the right to edit.

BOOKS. Books will be reviewed in Valley Leaves only upon receiving a gift copy from the author or publisher; afterwards the book is given to the Huntsville Public Libarary. We do not accept paid advertisement.

MAILING ADDRESS: Please inform TVGS immediately of a change of address. We will charge $2.00 to redeem an issue undelivered at the last address in our files.

SUGGESTIONS: TVGS welcomes any suggestions for improving our publication. Help us keep our standards high. Please re-check for accuracy any item you send to us. Notify us of unusual sources of material we might be permitted to publish in future issues of Valley Leaves.
