THRIFT, A. P., NO INFORMATION FROM STONE. (ROW 26)

THRONEBERRY, GEORGE W., 1866 - 1940. (ROW 3)

George and Charlotte Elizabeth "Lizzie" Shumate married about 1888, in Tennessee.

One day one of George's arms was cut off as he was helping his family make molasses. His mother treated and cared for the wound. He was not handicapped by this loss for he made molasses in Merrimack and cultivated vegetable gardens.

George died of a heart attack just after he had picked fresh vegetables from his garden for his daughter Ellen.

Children of George and Lizzie were Ellen, Florence, Lexie, James, Irene, Cordie, and Gertrude. All were born in Tennessee except Gertrude, who was born in Merrimack village.

Elizabeth Shumate Throneberry is buried in Maple Hill Cemetery.
