Moses Love bought bottomland. Deed photographed by John P. Rankin.

Being the youngest son of Moses Love, James was tasked with the chore of feeding the stock. James said the men and his older brothers left for the field early, sometimes by 6 a.m., so James had to feed the stock even earlier. Sometimes his father would wake up at 4:00 or 4:30 in the morning, and, fearing he would go back to sleep and oversleep, would wake up James at that time and have him go feed the stock. James would go out and put the food in the troughs and the hay in the mangers. He said it took the horses about 30 or 40 minutes to eat. Apparently, James continued to perform the task of feeding the stock throughout the years, as he laughed and said that when he was a young man, on the rare
