

This photo was among those kept by Zera and Dock Jacobs. Their son Alva doesn't remember who the woman was, but the photo is presented because it shows a clothing style of the past and clearly illustrates the construction type of the house behind her.