?? - Note: A stone, near Caleb and Mary Ann, had fallen face down and was impossible to move because of its tremendous weight, therefore, we have no way of knowing who was buried there. The following inscription was on the back of the stone:

"Think of her, speak of her not as departed, short is the distance that parts us today, round us about us, the brave and true-hearted, linger the deeds that have brightened her way".

The stone was by J. S. Clark & Co., Lou. Ky.

Note: Caleb Toney and Mary^{*} Miller were married October 9, 1837.
