

Taylor /Manning/Howard

I was unable to locate a tombstone for Arthur L. Sharp, however, his obituary was in the February 16, 1971 issue of The Huntsville Times: "Arthur L. Sharp. Services for Arthur L. Sharp, 40, of 505 Pratt Ave., NE [Huntsville], who died Sunday at a local hospital, will be held at 2 p.m. today at Mount[ain] Fork Baptist Church with the Rev. Bud Clardy officiating. Burial will be in Taylor Cemetery with Laughlin - Service Funeral Home directing. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Birdie Curtis Sharp; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Hubert; his mother, Mrs. Lucian Sharp; three brothers, Donald Sharp and Ernest Clayton Sharp of Huntsville, and Leslie Lee Sharp of Chicago, and four sisters, Mrs. Annie Grady and Mrs. Lorene Cantrell of Huntsville, Mrs. Elsie Daniels of Chicago, and Mrs. Bell Matthews of Orlando, Fla.

HOWARD CEMETERY

LOCATION: Section 26-1-1E. NE SE - In a row of trees on north side of Walker Lane.

There are no stones in this cemetery and I do not know who is buried here. I was told by a neighbor that it was the "old Howard Cemetery" but they could give me no further information. It does, however, have a rather interesting history. A small plane crashed in it a few years ago and at one time bank robbers, being chased by the sheriff, tossed a bag of money in the cemetery; the money was recovered.
