

Unknown Cemetery, 52-1, Redstone Arsenal, Madison Co. AL, April 26, 2003
Fieldstone along north central edge of cemetery

There was an obvious grave depression near this fieldstone, but there were otherwise very few grave depressions found in the cemetery at the time visited. If visited during February or early March, more depressions may be visible, as the overgrowing vegetation would be killed and matted by cold weather at such a time.
