

arsenal cemetery project was undertaken because Peter Lemley of South Carolina is his ancestor, whose son Ephraim Lemley moved to Madison County in 1812, near New Hope. However, there were several "Hugh Smith" heads of households in the 1790, 1800, and 1810 censuses of South Carolina, so it is certainly not completely established that the one of York County was the same as the one who came to Madison County, Alabama by 1818.

John Darwin	1	1	1	1	1	1	2	1	7
Thos. Dennis	3			1			1	1
Edward Summersford		1	1	1			1
Robert Greer Jun.	1			1			1	1
Nancy Mitchell		2	1				2		1
Mr. Summersford	1	2		1			1		20
Capt. Blanton Davis	2			1			1	1
John Wallace (oc)		1		1			1
Robert Love Jun	1			1			3	1
John Simons	3	1		1		3		1
John Wicks	1			1		2	1	1
Abner W. Conde	1			1				1
Stephen W. Conde	1	2	2		1	1	2	1	5
James Smith			1		1			1	5
Hugh Smith	2			1		2		2	5
Mr. Ferguson	2	1		1		4		1	1
Mr. Green				1		5		1
Mr. Love			1	1	1				2
Iron Watson				1			1		1
Daniel Wicks	2	1		1		3	2	1
Barbra Kinsley
Mr. Love Esqr		1	2		1		1	1	2
James Rodgers			1						1
John Bryson	2			1		1		1	1
Gilbert Enloe	1			1		2		1	5
James Henry Junr			1					1
David Houghton				1	1	1	1	1	3
Henry Houser		2	2

1810 Federal Census, York Co., South Carolina, page 268-A

One consideration that makes the match-up likely is the consistent use of particular given names within the family of the Madison County Hughy