

maps used in this study cannot precisely fit the cemetery into either quarter section with authority.

Lynch Cemetery (89-3), Redstone Arsenal, Madison County, Alabama, July 2002.

There are no tombstones at all in the cemetery. The only inscribed marker is one provided by the Army offices to denote the cemetery name. The photo below shows the only fieldstone found within the fenced area, even though there are about 15 - 20 obvious grave depressions. However, if the cemetery is filled with graves, it could easily hold over 250 burials, as its overall dimensions are about 125 feet by 120 feet.