

where he died. After his death, his widow, the subject of this notice, came back to Georgia and resided with a daughter who was married in that State, with whom she lived until the death of her daughter, when she took up her residence with her grand-daughter, the wife of JUDGE WILKINSON, with whom she removed to this State.

MRS. JOHNSON retained her faculties in an eminent degree to the last, and died with the most perfect composure and resignation after a short illness. She never used spectacles until she was 100 years old, and in her latest days conversed with great accuracy of the scenes and occurrences of her early life.
